

JOSHUA FROST PHOTOGRAPHY

ABOUT ME

I'm Joshua Frost. I like pie, American soccer, English football, good movies, great food, and I consume enough Diet Pepsi annually to sink the Titanic.

I'm a multi-talented Renaissance man who once professionally designed games

(seriously, Google "Yetisburg"), bought and sold advertising space for magazines, traveled the world, and chased Madonna in London's East End just to get a picture of her jumping into her car with Guy Ritchie (true story).

More than any other style of photography, the portrait is what I live for. Social media headshots, family portraits, engagements, newborns, maternity—I can do it all, have done it all, and (most importantly) LOVE doing it all.

I'm a Seattle, WA based photographer, though as an experienced world traveler, I will photograph your portrait in any time zone—if Richard Branson can figure out how to make money off it, I'll even photograph you in space. When you choose me to take your portrait you get nothing but plusses: +energy, +humor, +style, +crazy, and (I hope) +friend. I don't just want to take your picture—I want to get to know you, understand you, and tell your story.

Let's tell your story together.

Addendum

All packages include online proofing for 60 days. Final low-resolution digital files with watermarks are burned to a DVD and delivered with the final package. All prices include sales tax and shipping. If you read all the way to the end of my pricing sheet, then I congratulate you on a job well done. You are an attentive scholar, a careful reader, and my favorite client ever. I mean it.
